

International Workshop
"Advances in Nonlinear Analysis"
University of Pittsburgh
March 13 - 15, 2014

Lebesgue points via Poincare inequality

Pekka Koskela

The existence of Lebesgue points for Sobolev functions outside a small set is usually proven by first proving this outside a set of capacity zero and then proving that a set has positive capacity unless it is very small. There is a more direct argument that dates back at least to work of Giusti. I will explain what a variant of this argument gives and pose an open problem.